

Psychological phenomenon «psychological boundaries of personality»

N. Sakharova
J. Shchukina

The article provides an overview of the theoretical approaches to the definition of the phenomenon and discusses approaches to the study of psychological boundaries, its types and functions, to understanding of the development process of personal boundaries. The article considers points of view of the classical psychological theories and the modern researchers.

Keywords: psychological boundaries of personality, psychoanalysis, bodydynamic analysis

Information about the authors

N. Sakharova – Ph.D. in Psychology, Associate professor of the Psychology Department at State University “Dubna”.

E-mail: sakharovanata@yandex.ru

J. Shchukina – Master Psychology, Graduate of Psychology Department at State University “Dubna”.

E-mail: shukinaul@mail.ru